THE REFERENDUM (SINGLE-MEMBER CONSTITUENCIES) BILL, 2012

MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Section 69 of the Constitution of the Cayman Islands provides that a law enacted by the Legislature may make provision to hold a referendum amongst persons registered as electors in accordance with section 90 of the Constitution, on a matter or matters of national importance, when so resolved by the majority of the elected members of the Assembly.

This Bill contains the provisions for the holding of such a referendum.

Clause 1 of the Bill provides the short title.

Clause 2 is the interpretation clause.

Clause 3 provides that a referendum shall be held about whether there should be an electoral system of single-member constituencies with each elector being entitled to cast only one vote. The date for the holding of the referendum would be appointed by the Governor in Cabinet.

Clause 4 of the Bill specifies the matter of national importance, and prescribes the referendum question which is:

“Do you support an electoral system of single-member constituencies with each elector being entitled to cast only one vote?”.

The question will not have been answered in favour of single-member constituencies with each elector being entitled to cast only one vote, unless more than fifty per centum of persons registered as electors, vote in the referendum in favour of the question. Provision is also made in respect of the ballot paper, the form of which is prescribed in Schedule 1.

Clause 5 provides that the persons entitled to vote in the referendum are those who, on the day of the holding of the referendum, would be entitled to vote as electors at an election in an electoral district.

Clause 6 prescribes the functions of the Supervisor, the Deputy Supervisor and various other officials at the referendum.

Clause 7 of the Bill enables the appointment of persons to observe the conduct of the referendum, the verification of the ballot paper accounts and the counting of the votes.

Clause 8 sets out the procedure for questioning the number of ballot papers or votes cast in the referendum.

Clause 9 and Schedule 2 enable the referendum proceedings to be conducted as if the referendum were an election of members to the Legislative Assembly.

Clause 10 of the Bill provides that remuneration and travelling allowances payable to officers under the legislation are to be defrayed out of the general revenue of the Islands.

Clause 11 enables the Governor in Cabinet to make regulations relating to the conduct of the referendum.
